• Media Plan and Press Releases- Bi-weekly updates in the Wilkinson County News and the Wilkinson County Post will update the public on developments and future opportunities to participate.

Public Input Techniques
• Meetings/ Hearings- The Comprehensive Plan Committee determined that the most effective method for receiving public input was to establish a regular schedule of meetings both during the business day and in the evening.

Public Interaction Techniques
• Brainstorming- During the initial Community Agenda Meeting, brainstorming will be used to address the issues identified in the Community Assessment.
• Vision Goals and Objectives- Once the brainstorming is complete, the Stakeholders group will work to answer the “what do we want” and “how do we get there” questions that are essential to the planning process.

Public Partnership Techniques
• Stakeholder meetings- In the first section of this element, the Comprehensive Plan Committee identified the stakeholders that will be used to mold the Community Agenda.
• Intergovernmental Partnership Meetings- The Comprehensive Plan Committee consists of representatives from Wilkinson County and each of the cities. The Committee is guiding the plan process and serves as the task force on the Intergovernmental Coordination component of the Plan.
• Task Forces- As the Stakeholders utilizes the vision goals and objectives as a participation technique, the need for special tasks forces to address issues may be identified and this technique would be utilized.

Public hearings will be held as each phase of the comprehensive planning process is completed. The public will not only be kept aware of decisions made by focus group members, but they will also be presented with the opportunity to become involved with future focus groups as well.
