1 Introduction

1.1 Purpose
The preparation of the Community Participation Program is an important first step in obtaining citizen participation and involvement in the Comprehensive Plan. The purpose of the Community Participation Program of the Brantley County, City of Hoboken and City of Nahunta Comprehensive Plan is to insure that citizens and other stakeholders are aware of the planning process and are provided opportunities to comment on the local plan, individual plan components, or plan amendments. More importantly, citizens should have the ability to participate actively in the process of defining the community’s vision, values, goals, policies, priorities, and implementation strategies.

1.2 Scope
Brantley County and the Cities of Hoboken and Nahunta are required by state law to complete its Comprehensive Plan Update by June 30, 2006. The plan will be prepared in accordance with the Basic Planning Level Local Planning Requirements from the Georgia Department of Community Affairs (DCA) effective November 28, 2005.

1.3 Requirements
Experience in public involvement has shown that lasting solutions are best identified when all segments of a community; individuals, local officials, educators, and the business and civic communities are brought together in a spirit of cooperation. A collaborative approach to community engagement is not just an opportunity, but also a necessity. The following are reasons for this involvement:

- Educate and increase public awareness
- Capture knowledge and preferences of people who live in and support their communities
- Mobilization of support and acceptance of the plan

Communities that prosper do so because people work together to improve the quality of life that they want to sustain. The measure of effectiveness of a public involvement program is not that the public has been informed, but that public input has contributed to making a decision that is feasible and is supported by a large segment of the community.

Public comment and sentiment are a rich source of information about people’s values and ideas. These values and ideals must be interpreted into meaningful information to guide the project. It is essential to know the community’s values to avoid, minimize, and diminish impacts as well as narrow the field of alternative solutions. This process is designed to accomplish the following:

- Improvement in quality of decisions
- Increase ease of Implementation
- Provide greater public knowledge of community goals and objectives
- Evidence of community created identity

3 Identification of Participation Techniques

3.1 Initial Hearing
As required under the Standards and Procedures for Local Comprehensive Planning, an initial hearing will be held to announce to the public that the planning process for updating the comprehensive plan is underway and to present the draft Community Participation Program and draft Community Assessment to the public. The meeting is scheduled for September 12, 2005. The public will be informed of the project schedule and adoption hearings and how they can get involved. The public will also be given the opportunity to comment on the process, draft documents and their vision for the future.

3.2 Steering Committee
At the September 12, 2005, meeting a volunteer based Steering Committee was established. A Chair and Vice-Chairperson were nominated and elected by Committee members. The Committee implemented a monthly meeting schedule with added communication by email and phone when needed and warranted between meetings. It is the goal of this Committee enlist more volunteers that represent a cross section of interests in the community Following is a sample list of activities planned by the Steering Committee:

- Create flyer for publicity campaign and post in visible areas in community
- Create and mail survey to all postal patrons
- Create Power Point presentation

3.3 Scenario Building
Scenario building will (1) engage citizens in visioning, (2) evaluation of the future, and (3) choosing the preferred future for their community. Participants will use visioning to describe their community using economic, physical, social, demographic, and cultural characteristics. This meeting/exercise is scheduled for October 3, 2005 from 6pm-8pm.

3.4 Speakers Bureau
The Steering Committee members will bring their stakeholder surveys, information, and knowledge about the comprehensive plan by speaking at local church organizations, civic groups, schools, and Chamber of Commerce. This provides an excellent way to get information about the comprehensive plan to the public and to receive feedback and ideals from local citizens. The Committee members are so dedicated in their efforts to “get the word out”, and to have their surveys completed that they are going to visit and deliver surveys to such places as; nursing homes, housing authority, county extension office, businesses, private citizens, minority communities, and community leaders.
3.5  Telephone Survey
A telephone survey campaign will be conducted during the months of October and November. This will allow for even greater input into the comprehensive plan by reaching those that normally would not participate in any committee or groups or come out to meetings.

3.6  Outreach
Notices, editorials, flyers, survey and articles will be posted in newspapers, community message boards, public service announcements and any other place where citizens will see it. This will be done during the months of October 2005 through March 2006.
