

Call for Posters

The Georgia Statewide Historic Preservation Conference will host a poster session at the 2023 annual conference to showcase recently completed research and works-in-progress. Topics should focus on issues impacting historic preservation, public history, or related fields within Georgia. The call is open to students and recent graduates (no more than 5 years out).

Proposals should include a title, abstract (no more than 300 words), and a one-page resume or CV. If you have any questions about the poster session, please contact committee chair Chad Keller ckeller@gsu.edu.

Poster presenters will need to register for the conference, but admission will be complimentary. The Georgia Statewide Historic Preservation Conference is scheduled to be held September 13-15, 2023, in Augusta, GA. The conference brings together preservationists, non-profits, planners, architects, historians, architectural historians, archaeologists, city and county administrators, historic preservation commission members and students from across Georgia.

Abstract Criteria

Abstracts should include a brief introduction to the project that includes the objective or research question, as well as the methods used. Results and conclusions are not required in the submission but should be included in the final poster. The description must be substantial enough to let the review committee know what the project is about, as well as the expected contribution or value.

Submissions will be evaluated on the following criteria:

Clarity – The objectives of the research presented are clearly described.

Significance – The objectives of the research make a professional or academic contribution to the field

Methods – The methods used (including the design, implementation, and analysis) are appropriate to achieving the objectives of the research.

Presentation – The abstract is logical, interesting, clearly written, and free of grammatical or typographical errors.

THE DEADLINE TO SUBMIT A PROPOSAL IS July 14

The proposal should be emailed as a PDF attachment to Chad Keller ckeller@gsu.edu. All proposals received will be acknowledged. If you do not receive an acknowledgement of receipt of your proposal within one week of its submission, please contact Chad Keller.
